

Our group is focused on the limits of data storage in relation to memory

#sustainabledatastorage

When we look in to the futures we built a speculation about a world where everybody has to continuously overwrite their data.

We zoomed in on the issues of the individual responsibility to begin our intervention.

