

A foggy beach scene with people in the distance and a surfboard on the sand.

We built a speculation about a world where we share and live each others' memories; via an AI algorithm connecting us into a single community.

We zoomed in to the issue of blurred identity to begin our intervention.

The Ether Community

Living as a better collective

Designing Ethical Futures

